Message from the Founder-Director

Hallmark's second edition is in your hands, and I'd urge you not to put it down too quickly. A magazine like this is an odd thing to make. You spend a year chasing students, and some staff — myself included — for interviews, photos, captions, edits, more edits. By the time it's printed, half the moments inside it already feel distant. That's the point. Five years from now, ten years from now, this little book becomes something else entirely. A child you barely recognise will stare back from page 14. A teacher who has long since moved on will be there at a Founder's Day, mid-laugh. The girls leafing through it as adults will find a version of themselves they had forgotten.

I think of Hallmark as the school's family album. The Vandroid and the Vanverse catch the noise of the year and turn it into music. Hallmark holds the year still. If a time machine ever turns up at school, I suspect it will look a lot like this.

This edition holds a section that is harder to write about than the rest. The Class of 2026 leaves us this year, and the pages we have given them — their dream jobs, their bucket lists, then-and-now photographs, messages from their parents — are the closest thing to a proper farewell a school can put on paper. Read past the marks and the medals, the placements and the superlatives. What we will miss is none of that. It is them. Not the prize-givings or the awards days — the Tuesday evenings, the Saturday bus rides. Who they are, as they are. That is what we hold on to.

What the Editorial Board pulls off, with Ms Shrinkhala steering them, is genuinely difficult work. These girls write and edit between unit tests, prep, hostel routines and sports practices. They learn to take feedback, miss a sleep cycle for a deadline, argue over a headline, and still show up the next morning. Not all of that is glamorous. Most of it isn't. And yet here it is. A whole year, bound and quiet.

Every school says it builds community. Few stop to ask who tells the stories that hold one together. At Vantage Hall, the EB does. The characters are real. The childhoods are ours. Hold on to this one. It's got a heartbeat!

Mr. S. Rishi Singh

Message from the Principal and Dean of Language

Dear Class of 2026, Days turned into weeks, weeks into years, and before we knew it - here you are, ready to step into a bold new chapter of your life. Through these years, we have watched you work hard and play hard. We have seen you anxious and we have seen you confident. We have seen you stumble, and more importantly, we have seen you rise. And in the end, it has all played out more beautifully than we could have imagined. You have made us so very proud. Life ahead will offer you opportunities, adventures, and moments of pure joy. But it will also test you in ways you don't yet expect. In those moments, we ask you to stay true to the values and the lessons you learned here. Go forth with courage, with kindness, and with an open heart. The world is your oyster!

With best wishes,

Ms. Seema Sharda

Message from the Advisory Board

"Your life is your story, and the adventure ahead of you is the journey to fulfil your own purpose and potential."

My Dear girls, you have now stepped out of a very sheltered environment and discovered a wide, new and exciting world. Each passing-out batch from school brings back my own memories of joining college more than fifty years ago. It was a big change - from a privileged convent education to a university, which drew students from very diverse backgrounds.

I hope and pray that each one of you will discover that what you have envied at Vantage- academically, culturally, leadership roles and bonds of friendship- will guide you through this really important phase of this journey.

You are all remembered and missed, and nothing will give us more joy than to hear from you and know that your footsteps will carry you to Vantage whenever your heart tugs you back.

With love and blessings always,

Ma'am Parmar

Message from the Dean of Student Enrichment

Dear Batch of 2025,

It feels strange to write a message for a batch that has already moved on to new beginnings. Just a year ago, the school was filled with your energy, enthusiasm, laughter, and, of course, the occasional last-minute rush before an activity or event!

I have had the opportunity to see many of you participate in different activities, take responsibilities, perform on stage, work as teams, and step outside your comfort zones. These experiences were not always about winning; they were about learning to work together, handling pressure, discovering your strengths, and creating memories along the way.

What I will remember most is not any single event or achievement, but the little moments—the excitement before a programme, the discussions behind the scenes, the celebrations after a successful event, and even those moments when things did not go exactly as planned but you managed to make them work.

You have now entered a new phase of life, with new places, new people, new challenges, and new opportunities. I hope you continue to carry the same curiosity, confidence, and spirit of participation that you showed during your school years.

Your journey at school may have ended, but the memories you created here remain a part of its story. We are proud to have been a small part of your journey and look forward to seeing all that you accomplish in the years ahead.

Stay grounded, keep learning, keep participating, and most importantly, keep being yourselves.

With warm wishes for your future,
Ms. Kritika Gora

Message from the Dean of Sports

As our passing-out students step forward to face their examinations and the world beyond school, I extend my heartfelt wishes for success and fulfilment. School has been your training ground—a safe environment where you learn discipline, teamwork, resilience, and self-belief. Just like in sports, you practised, stumbled, learned, and grew stronger with every challenge.

Now, the real match of life begins. There will be wins that bring joy and losses that teach valuable lessons. Remember, true success is not only about the final score, but about the effort, integrity, and determination you bring to the game every single day.

Carry forward the spirit of sportsmanship—stay focused on your goals, respect others, remain physically and mentally strong, and never give up under pressure. Believe in your preparation, trust your abilities, and move ahead with confidence and courage.

I wish you great success in your exams and a future filled with purpose, passion, and perseverance.

Mr. Kaibirich Mirtunjay

Message from the HOD Commerce & Humanities

As you stand on the threshold of a new chapter, you'll always be close to my heart. I'm so proud of the incredible people you're becoming. Hard work beats talent when talent doesn't work hard enough. Success isn't just a destination; it's the result of perseverance, dedication, and passion.

Whenever you come back to visit, I'll have a variety of toffees waiting for you. My door is always open, and my heart is full of love for each one of you.

Don't focus on what you can't do; focus on what you're capable of. You'll feel confident and learn new things along the way. Victories teach you to be humble, but mistakes make you more skillful. So just do your best! Never give up. Failure is a part of success. Consider it a chance to do better next time.

It has been a pleasure watching you grow and learn. Your dedication and effort have paid off, and I know you will continue to excel in all you do.

Wishing you all the best for your future!

Always Remember: Difficulty is like a bag of cotton - heavy for those who see it, light for those who handle it.

Good luck to all of you!

With warm wishes,

Ms. Meenu Batra

YOUR TEACHER & CLASS TEACHER

Message from the HOD Physics

"As your Physics teacher, it gives me immense pride to witness the graduation of our Grade XII girls. Over the years, you have demonstrated not only academic excellence but also discipline, resilience, and a spirit of inquiry—the very qualities that drive scientific progress. Much like the laws of Physics that govern the universe, your dedication and perseverance will guide you toward greater heights. As you step into a new phase of life, remember that every challenge is an opportunity to learn, grow, and evolve. Continue to question, explore, and push boundaries with confidence and integrity. May your future be as bright as your aspirations and as limitless as your potential. Wishing each one of you success, fulfilment, and the courage to make a meaningful impact on the world."

Mr. Suresh Paliwal

Message from the HOD Mathematics

Jai Siya Ram students.

Firstly, congratulations on successfully passing your 12th-grade examinations! This is a huge achievement and marks the end of one chapter and the exciting beginning of another.

All your hard work, dedication, and long nights of study have paid off, and you should be incredibly proud of yourselves.

As you move forward into higher studies, remember that this journey is about more than just obtaining a degree; but the focus should be on acquiring knowledge, fostering growth, and realizing your unique strengths.

The path ahead will bring new challenges and opportunities.Stay true to your passions, but also remain open to learning new things.

Don't be afraid to fail, as setbacks are merely stepping stones to greater success. Work hard, stay focused on your goals, and never stop believing in yourselves.

Also, just as we solved complex equations together, I know you have the capability to solve any problem life throws your way. As you step out of my classroom, always remember to convert your negatives into positives and keep adding to your success.

My dear students, I wish you all the best for your future, and remember, I'm always here to guide and assist you whenever you need a formula for success. All the best

YOU ARE IN SAFE HANDS, FALCONS

Let’s walk together and share our journey for a few more miles. When experience falls short and curiosity piques, a new adventure brews in every sip of coffee. Fresh perspectives and bright ideas are constantly brought to the table by our students—that’s what we call Boarders. We love watching happy feet trundling across the stage night after night during roll call.

From surprise checks and late-night calls to clever excuses and negotiations for movie nights, seeing them gathered around the mess with big smiles and astonished eyes is priceless. We wouldn’t trade it for all the gold in the world. Those wide eyes and cute faces looking up at you, filled with hope, just pleading for "5 extra minutes of phone time"—it warms the heart every single time.

The greatest strengths of the school spring from the quality of the human relationships throughout the community and the sense of companionship which supports the well-being prospects for the girls.

Attending a boarding school is a unique upbringing that leaves a massive, positive impact on the long-term development of our students, as well as on our staff and team. Even simple moments, like rewarding ice-cream rides paired with long drives, give us a reason to shine.

"Early to bed and early to rise, make your beds tidy and nice." It’s these simple routines that reflect your true dedication and achievements—shining bright from the very first ray of morning light until the final glow of the evening.

God Bless

Message from the House Mistress - Senior Wing

When people ask me what it means to be a House Mother, I simply smile and say, "It is not a job; it is a privilege."

A hostel is often seen as a building of rooms, corridors, and routines. But to me, as a House Mother, it is far more than bricks and mortar. It is a place where children arrive with dreams in their hearts, hopes in their eyes, and sometimes, tears they try so hard to hide.

Every new session begins with anxious faces, warm embraces, and quiet goodbyes. As parents leave, a new chapter unfolds—not only for the children but for those of us entrusted with their care. In those moments, I am reminded that my role extends far beyond supervision. It is about offering reassurance, building trust, and creating a space where every child feels safe, valued, and loved.

Within these walls, strangers become siblings, shared meals become cherished memories, and ordinary days turn into lifelong stories. Here, children learn not only to live independently but also to care, to share, to respect differences, and to stand by one another. They discover strengths they never knew they possessed and grow into confident, compassionate individuals.

As a House Mother, there is no greater joy than watching this quiet transformation. Every success is celebrated with pride, every setback is met with encouragement, and every child is loved for who they are. Though I cannot replace the warmth of a parent's embrace, I hope to offer a comforting presence—a reminder that they are never alone.

Years from now, these children may not remember every rule or every routine, but I hope they will remember how this place made them feel. Beyond these walls and windows lies a home built not of bricks, but of kindness, patience, laughter, resilience, and unconditional care.

For that is what a hostel truly is—not merely a place to stay, but a place where hearts are nurtured, lives are shaped, and memories are made to last a lifetime.

FROM THE SCHOOL CAPTAIN'S PEN

Dear Falcons,
A home away from home. That was the first thing I read about Vantage Hall when I joined in Grade 8. At the time, it felt like just a line, comforting, hopeful, and reassuring. Over the years, it became a truth I lived every single day. I never would've thought I would come to love and adore my school this much. I started finding a bit of Vantage everywhere in my life, even outside the school. The orange, pink and yellow hues of the sunsets, which immediately reminded me of my forever home, Vantage. Mind you, everytime I come across shades of these three colours, I'm instantly taken back to my school corridors. That's how deeply my bond with our school runs.

Growing up at Vantage Hall has been about more than academics. It has been about discovering my voice, myself, learning to take responsibility, and understanding the value of community.

Vantage has taught me empathy and grace, showing me that making an impact doesn't always require a loud voice – you could be a soft-spoken girl powerful enough to make an impact. From Grade 8 to Grade 12, every experience, big or small, has contributed to my journey. Writing here today as School Captain, I do so with gratitude for the teachers who guided me, the friends who supported me, and the institution that trusted me to lead.

As I move forward, I carry Vantage Hall with me, not just in memories, but in values and lessons that will stay for life. This will always be my home away from home. So, falcons, cherish your time here, and it's been an honour to serve as your school captain for this academic year. Keep learning, leading and contributing!

Growing up at Vantage Hall has been about more than academics. It has been about discovering my voice, myself, learning to take responsibility, and understanding the value of community.

Kamakshi Singh, Head Girl, Class of 2026

FROM THE SCHOOL VICE-CAPTAIN'S PEN

I have spent a lot of time thinking about how to put this into words, how do we let go of the places and people that have shaped us so deeply?
I think perhaps the only way to truly let go is by thanking the past, thanking the people and experiences that shaped us and then moving on to the next chapter, happy, fulfilled, and humble about what is to come. It even made me submit this write-up to the editorial late, so thank you for your patience.

Over these years, I have realized something that I think every passing batch feels but rarely says. We never truly say thank you enough. We thank people in passing, but so many of the people and experiences that shape us go unacknowledged. I want to take this moment to try to do just that, even if words can never fully capture it.

I think perhaps the only way to truly let go is by thanking the past—thanking the people and experiences that shaped us and then moving on to the next chapter, happy, fulfilled, and humble about what is to come.

Looking back, every conversation, every mistake, and every achievement has shaped the person I am today. I am grateful to the teachers and matrons who woke us up every morning, reminding us it was time to start the day. I am grateful for the food on our tables, even though we often joked about wishing we could have more junk food. I am grateful to the mali bhaiyas for keeping our school so neat and beautiful that visitors cannot help but say, "What a beautiful campus!" Their work made me proud to be a part of this school.

I want to thank our teachers for always lifting us up when we stumbled, for guiding us through every milestone, and for motivating us to pursue our passions. Thank you for making us laugh when we missed our parents, for creating a space where we felt at home even when they were far away, and for believing in us even when we doubted ourselves.

Thank you to my friends for the laughter that filled classrooms and corridors, for the late-night conversations that made everything feel lighter, and even for the stressful moments of deadlines and exams that pushed us to grow. Every challenge, every success, every shared memory has shaped the person I am today.

I know every passing batch says similar things, but if there is one thing I have realized, it is that we never truly say thank you enough. So, thank you..... to my teachers, my friends, and everyone who has been part of this journey.

K. Dhanya Raju, Vice-Head Girl Class of 2026

FROM THE SPORTS CAPTAIN'S PEN

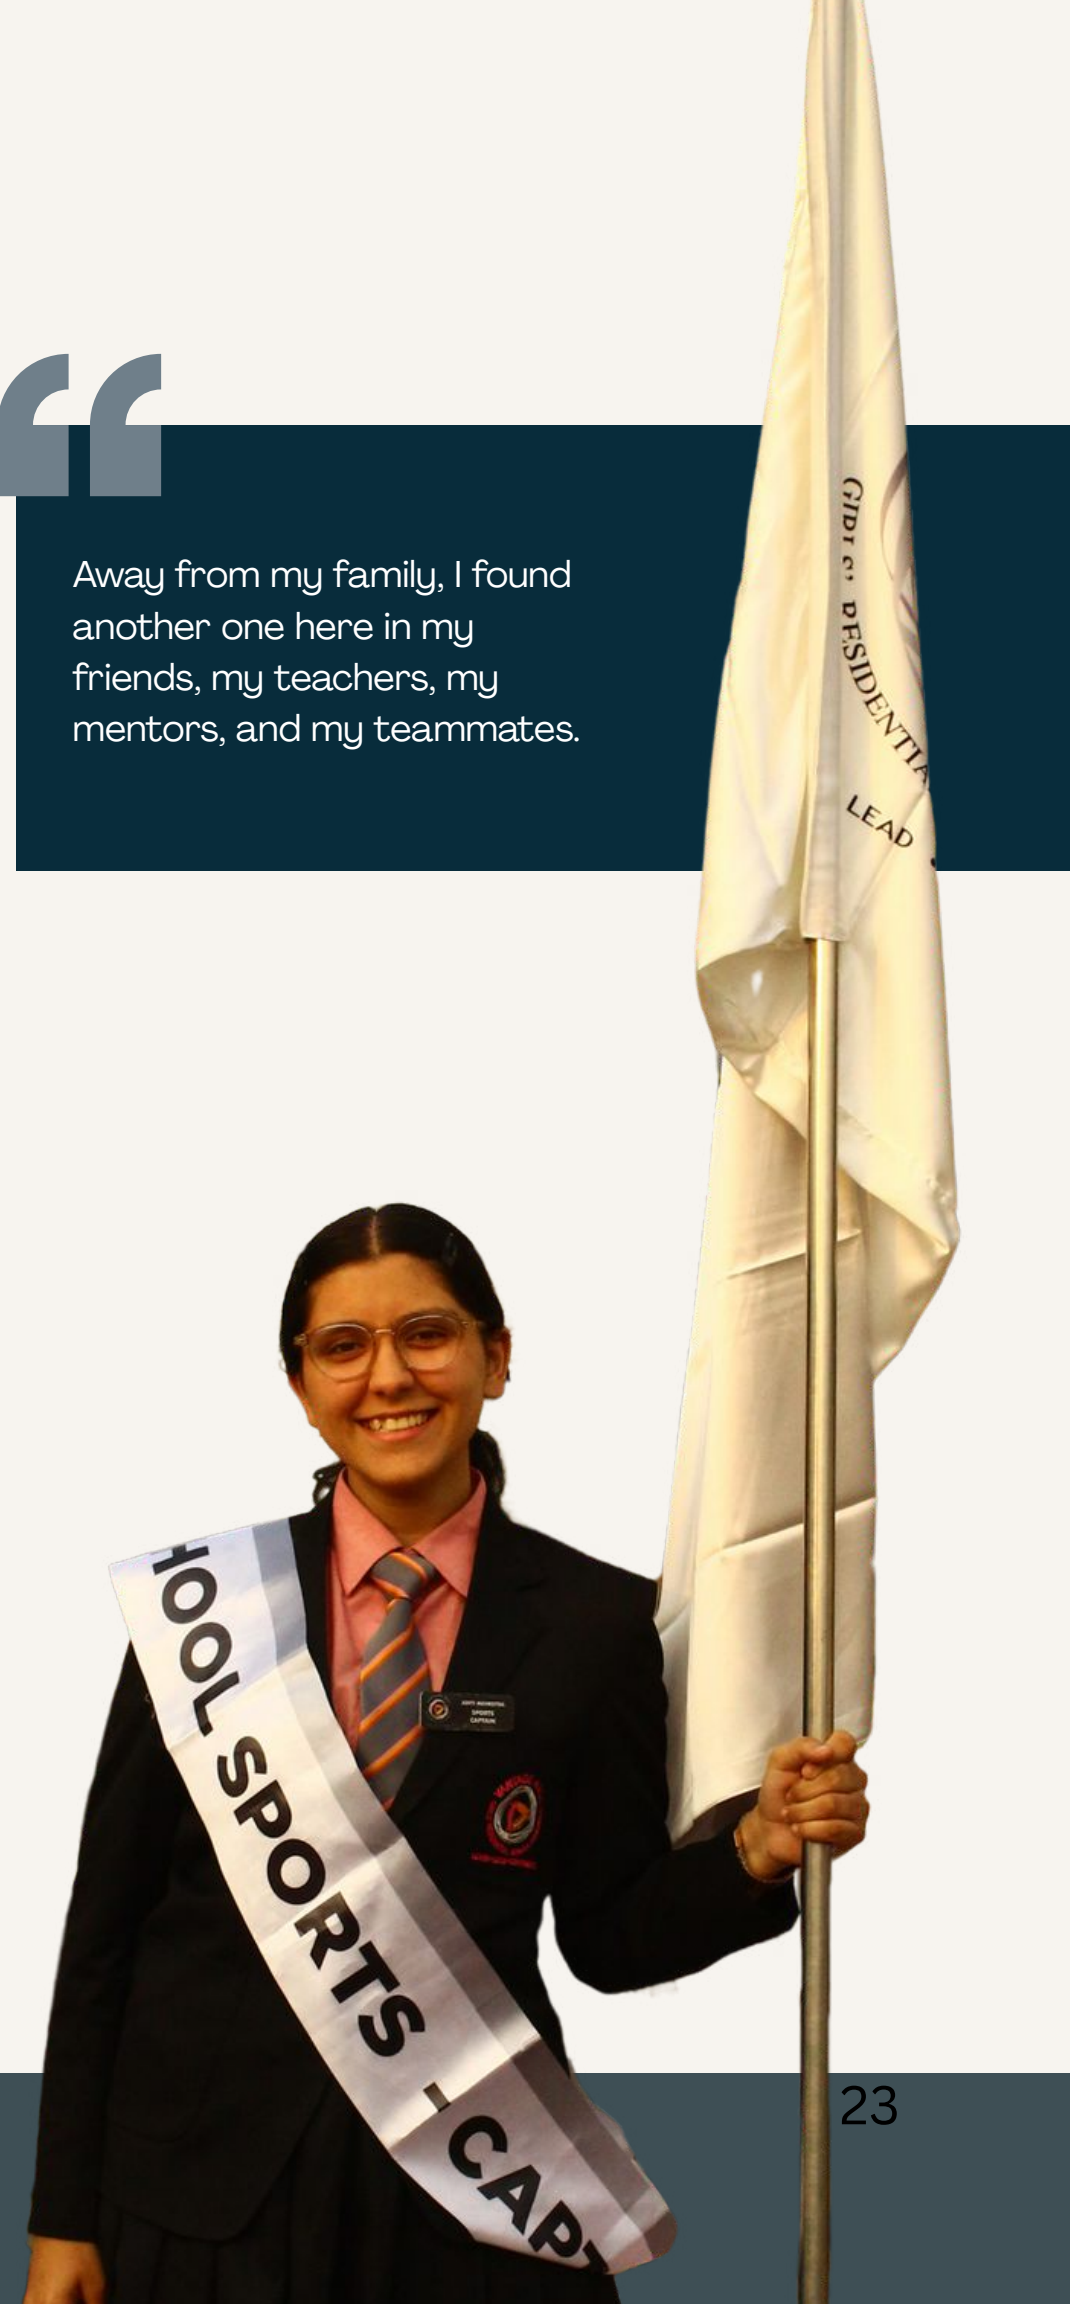

Two years ago, I walked inside the gates of this school, not knowing that this place would make me understand the true meaning of home away from home. I carried nervous excitement and quiet hope in my heart. I had no idea then that these corridors would witness my tears, my laughter, my failures, and my growth or that this school would slowly become a part of who I am.

Vantage Hall gave me more than education; it gave me comfort on difficult days and strength when I doubted myself. Away from my family, I found another one here in my friends, my teachers, my mentors, and my teammates. Every early morning practice, every fall on the field, and every cheer from the sidelines taught me lessons that went far beyond sports.

Being the Sports Captain has been deeply emotional and meaningful to me. It taught me responsibility, resilience, and the power of believing in others even when things feel tough. I learned that leadership is not about medals or titles, but about standing strong for your team, lifting each other up after losses, and celebrating every small victory together.
As I reflect on this journey, my heart is filled with gratitude. Gratitude for the trust placed in me, for the lessons that shaped my character, and for the memories that will stay with me forever. Vantage Hall did not just prepare me for competitions, it prepared me for life. No matter where I go from here, this school will always be the place where I learned to grow, to lead, and to call a place away from home… home.

Aditi Mehrotra, Class of 2026

Away from my family, I found another one here in my friends, my teachers, my mentors, and my teammates.

FROM THE VICE SPORTS CAPTAIN'S PEN

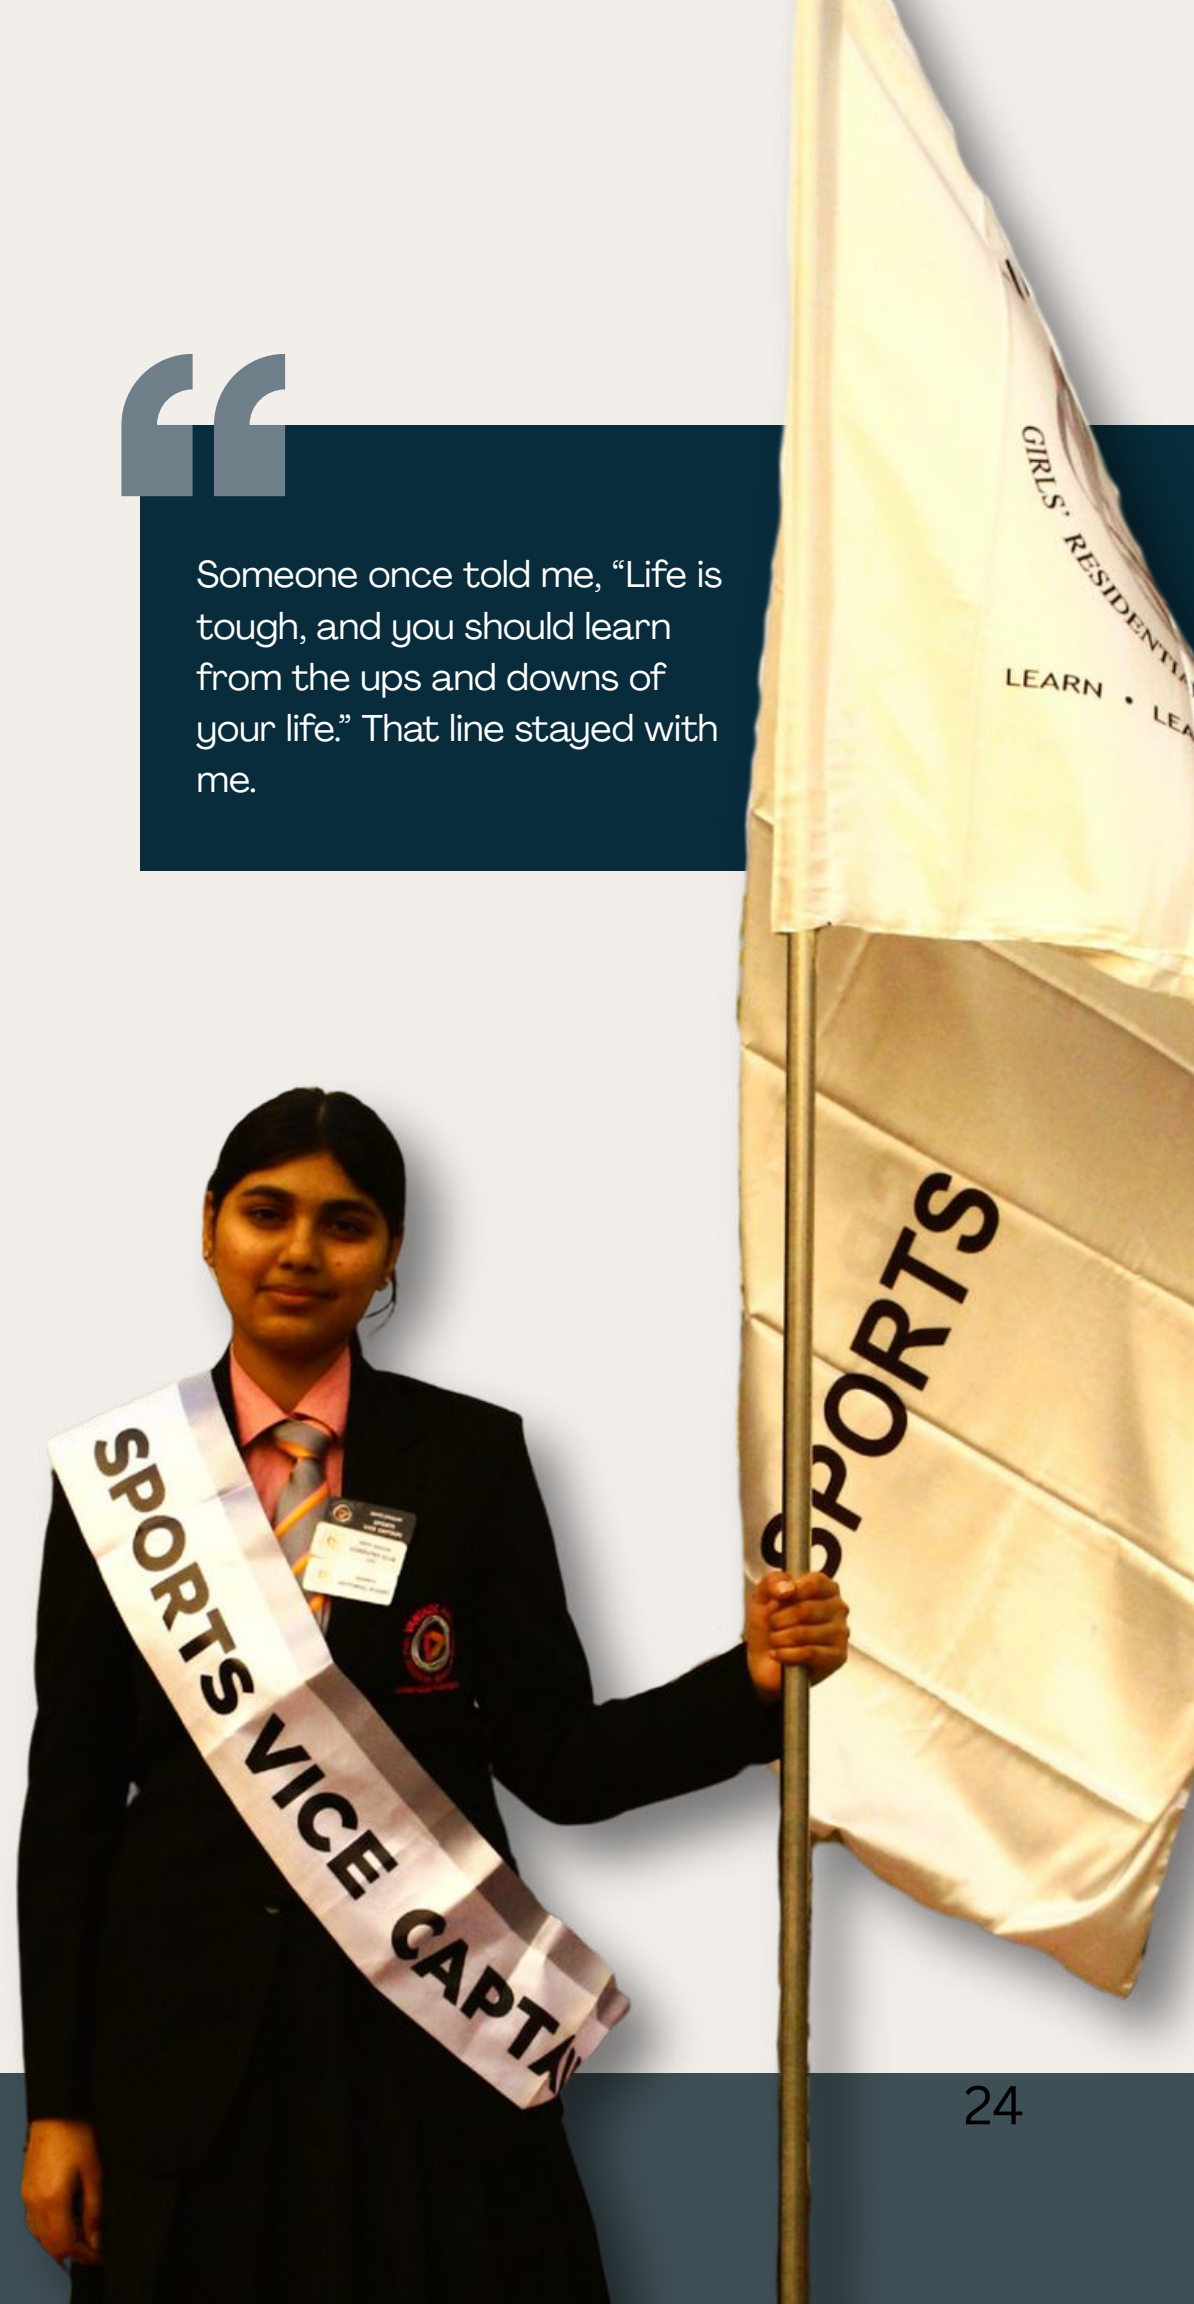

I joined this school without really knowing what I was walking into. No detailed expectations, no long-term vision, no dramatic motivation story. Just a new place, new people, and the assumption that I would "figure it out somehow." At that point, everything felt unfamiliar—faces, routines, rules, and a pace of life that was very different from what I had known before. Looking back, that uncertainty was probably the best way to start.

Somewhere between shared rooms, late nights, early mornings, and long days, I found people who became constant. We argued, disagreed, annoyed each other, and still stayed. We fought and fixed things. We created a space that felt safe without trying too hard to define it. Over time, those friendships stopped feeling temporary. They turned into something steady. Being away from home made that bond stronger. Sports played a defining role in my journey here. The field was where things made sense. It didn't matter how the day had gone—once the game started, everything else faded out. As Sports Vice Captain, I learned that leadership isn't about being loud or authoritative. It's about consistency. It's about showing up even when motivation is low, staying focused when pressure is high, and supporting the team without needing attention for it.

Someone once told me, "Life is tough, and you should learn from the ups and downs of your life." That line stayed with me. I learned that strength doesn't always look loud—it often looks calm. I walked in unsure. I leave composed. More aware. More grounded. Some experiences are best understood by the people who lived them alongside you. This school gave me lessons, memories, discipline, and people I'll carry forward. That's enough.

Aditi Dagar, Class of 2026

Someone once told me, "Life is tough, and you should learn from the ups and downs of your life." That line stayed with me.

THE PRESIDENT ALL CLUBS

"I began with doubt, grew through effort, and discovered that courage matters more than confidence."

If this year were a story, it wouldn't start with confidence—it would start with confusion. I joined vantage Hall in 11th grade, sitting in an interview for a post I dreamed of, while not even knowing the names of all 13 clubs. Somewhere between nervous smiles and crossed fingers, my journey as a student leader quietly began.

I am Riya Gharge, All Clubs President (co-president with Leesha Goel) for the academic year 2025–26 at Vantage Hall Girls' Residential School, and what followed was a year that felt like a beautifully chaotic masterpiece. Days filled with planning, evenings with discussions, and moments where three events chose the same date—each one teaching me something new. Curiosity slowly turned into confidence, and mistakes transformed into lessons I'll carry forever. Leading alongside Leesha showed me what true collaboration looks like—two minds, one shared vision, and laughter stitched between deadlines. My role wasn't just about coordination; it was about connection.

Riya Gharge
Class of 2026

Supporting the 13 incredible club presidents, amplifying ideas, and making sure every club felt valued taught me that leadership is less about authority and more about responsibility. Some of my favorite memories live behind a lens. The Photography Club became a space where moments paused and stories stayed. I am deeply grateful to Shrinkala ma'am, whose guidance and creative vision shaped not just photographs, but perspectives. Photography taught me to observe quietly—to understand that leadership, much like a photograph, depends on focus, perspective, timing, and the courage to retake the shot.

This journey would not have been the same without the 13 club presidents who trusted me, the mentors who guided us patiently, and Kritika ma'am—who answered our silliest doubts, even at midnight, and believed in us when we needed it most. Being part of the council wasn't just a position—it was a privilege. It gave me a voice, a family, and memories that feel like home. To the batches that follow: lead with heart, laugh often, and trust that even the most uncertain beginnings can lead to something extraordinary.

"Life has a funny way of taking us places we never planned for."

I'll of course start this the typical way—I never imagined getting the All-Clubs President position in my wildest dreams. This time, for real, it came as a surprise. And I felt that exact same disbelief when I received the badge. Somewhere between excitement and "wait... me?", the journey began.
From making sure everything was set for every Saturday, to the very first club showcase of the Vantage Hall clubs, and finally signing off with the march past and annual awards, everything felt full—somewhere complete. Yet with every step forward, I found myself wanting to relive those three steps back: the planning that went off-track, the last-minute changes, and the moments where chaos somehow turned into clarity.

It was messy for sure. We failed, came up with last minute ideas, and even questioned ourselves, but in the end, every victory felt personal. Everything was ours. Handling 13 clubs with my talented Co-partner, Riya Gharge was a blessing hidden in unpredictability, it was a true "wherever the wind flows" sharing responsibilities, trusting each other completely, and always showing up when it mattered most. We were constantly running around club presidents, club mentors, and especially Kritika Ma'am, holding onto diaries filled with reminders, instructions, and last-moment notes that slowly became our lifelines.

Leesha Goel

The best part? Whenever a problem came up, Riya and I would first laugh it off—and then immediately get super hyper figuring out how to fix it without scaring any teacher of course. That mix of humor, trust, and teamwork somehow kept us going, even on the busiest and most overwhelming days. Beyond leadership, it was also an honor to be a part of the Music Club and the MUN and Debate Club—spaces that shaped my confidence, my voice, and my love for expression. These clubs didn't just feel like responsibilities; they felt like home.

To the 13 club presidents—without you, none of this would have been possible, and I genuinely owe you a big thank you. This year wasn't perfect, but it was real, meaningful, and unforgettable. And most importantly, it was ours.

To the future club presidents who will step into these roles next—promise us you'll take these clubs even higher than where they stand today. Add your own chaos, your own ideas, and your own heart to them. We can't wait to see how far you take what we've built.

Because leadership isn't about leaving a mark—it's about leaving a spark that continues to burn long after you've stepped away.

THE PRESIDENT COMMUNITY SERVICE

The smallest act of kindness is worth more than the grandest intention." – Oscar Wilde

This year, community service taught me lessons that went far beyond tasks or checklists. I realized that leadership isn't about being in charge, it's about showing up, listening, and caring for others, even in the smallest ways. Community service is more than just plate checks after meals; it's about noticing needs, taking initiative, and genuinely trying to make a difference. These experiences inspired Umeed, an initiative built on hope, empathy, and the belief that sincere effort can create meaningful change.

Working with people from different backgrounds showed me how powerful small acts of kindness can be. Listening, encouraging, and simply being present often mattered more than I expected. Every interaction reminded me that understanding someone's situation takes patience and care and that real impact comes from empathy and consistency rather than grand gestures.

Aayat K. Kawosa
Class of 2026

Being the Community Services President gave me a sense of responsibility I hadn't experienced before. There were challenges and moments of uncertainty, but these experiences taught me resilience, reflection, and the value of persistence. I learned that leading with compassion often inspires more change than leading with authority.

This journey taught me that small acts like listening, and surviving plate checks can actually matter. These lessons, and the memories I've made, will stay with me long after I leave these halls and might even make me appreciate the little things a little more (even a perfectly cleared plate).

SUNNY JAIN

Dear Students,
As you turn the pages of this yearbook, remember that each photograph, each memory, and each milestone captured here is a testament to your hard work, resilience, and growth. Congratulations on all that you have achieved this year—both inside and outside the classroom.
You have faced challenges with courage, embraced learning with curiosity, and supported one another with kindness. These qualities will take you far, no matter where life leads you next. Dream big, stay humble, and never stop believing in your potential. The world needs your ideas, your energy, and your compassion.
Wishing you continued success, happiness, and the confidence to chase your goals. Keep shining and making us proud.

ABHIJEET

My dear Falcons of Grade 12,

Like true falcons, you have prepared patiently, strengthened your wings through discipline and perseverance, and learned to face every storm with courage. Today, as you take flight into the vast sky of opportunities, may you soar higher than you ever imagined—guided by purpose, integrity, and confidence.
It has been my privilege as your teacher and mentor to witness your journey. Though you now rise beyond these familiar horizons, you will forever remain our proud Falcons. My heartfelt blessings and best wishes always.

SHIVANI BISHT

Time truly flies when I am with you all. Each one of you adds meaning, energy, and joy to our classroom in ways you may not even realize yet. You carry immense potential within you—enough to conquer any challenge that comes your way. All you need is faith in yourself and patience with the process.
Always remember, you matter, and you are important.
All the best for your journey ahead, hope you enjoy and successed in your life.

SURBHI GOEL

My dear students, as you step forward to enter a new world, may this moment fill your heart with pride, gratitude, and hope.
May you carry the lessons, friendships, and values from these years into every new path you choose. The future awaits you with endless possibilities—walk ahead with confidence, courage, and kindness.
Each one of you walks up carrying unseen stories with you.
As you step away from these corridors, remember—this place will always carry echoes of your laughter, your dreams, and your presence. You are not just leaving with knowledge, but with a piece of time that can never be recreated.
Walk forward with grace. Stay true in moments that may try to change you. And wherever life takes you, never forget the quiet strength that brought you here today.
This is not just an ending.
It is the beginning of the person you are yet to become.
Go, and make your life a story worth remembering

Smiitaa Pandey

Dear Graduating Class of Grade 12,
Today, you stand at the luminous threshold between what has been and all that is yet to unfold. The corridors that once echoed with your laughter, your anxieties, your whispered dreams—now release you into a world vast, uncharted, and brimming with possibility. This is not merely a time to depart ; it is a becoming!! You are not the same individuals who first stepped into these halls and corridors... You have been shaped—gently and fiercely—by lessons learned in books and in silence, in triumphs that made your spirit soar and in failures that quietly carved resilience into your soul. Each one of you carries within, a constellation of stories, of courage, of becoming.
As Albert Einstein once said, “In the middle of difficulty lies opportunity.” Remember this when the road ahead feels uncertain, when shadows seem longer than light. For it is often in those moments that you will discover your truest strength. The world you now enter will not ask you to be perfect—it will ask you to be authentic, to be courageous, to be kind. Let your intellect be guided by curiosity, your ambition softened by empathy, and your success measured not only by what you achieve, but by what you uplift. In the words of Maya Angelou, “You can’t use up creativity. The more you use, the more you have.” Dare to imagine wildly. Dare to create fearlessly. Your ideas—no matter how small they seem today—have the power to ripple into something extraordinary. There will be days when doubt will sit beside you like an uninvited guest. On those days, remember the quiet wisdom of Rabindranath Tagore: “Faith is the bird that feels the light and sings when the dawn is still dark.” Hold on to that faith—faith in your journey, in your purpose, in the unseen dawn that awaits you.As you step forward, carry gratitude for where you come from, but do not let it anchor you—let it be the wind beneath your wings. The future is not something you enter; it is something you create—with your choices, your voice, your courage. So go forth—not just to succeed, but to matter. Not just to dream, but to dare. Not just to exist, but to illuminate. The world is waiting—not for who you were, but for who you are becoming. With pride, hope, and boundless belief in each one of you,my best wishes for you in your journey ahead in life. May your journey be as beautiful as your dreams. Good luck.

Griffin House

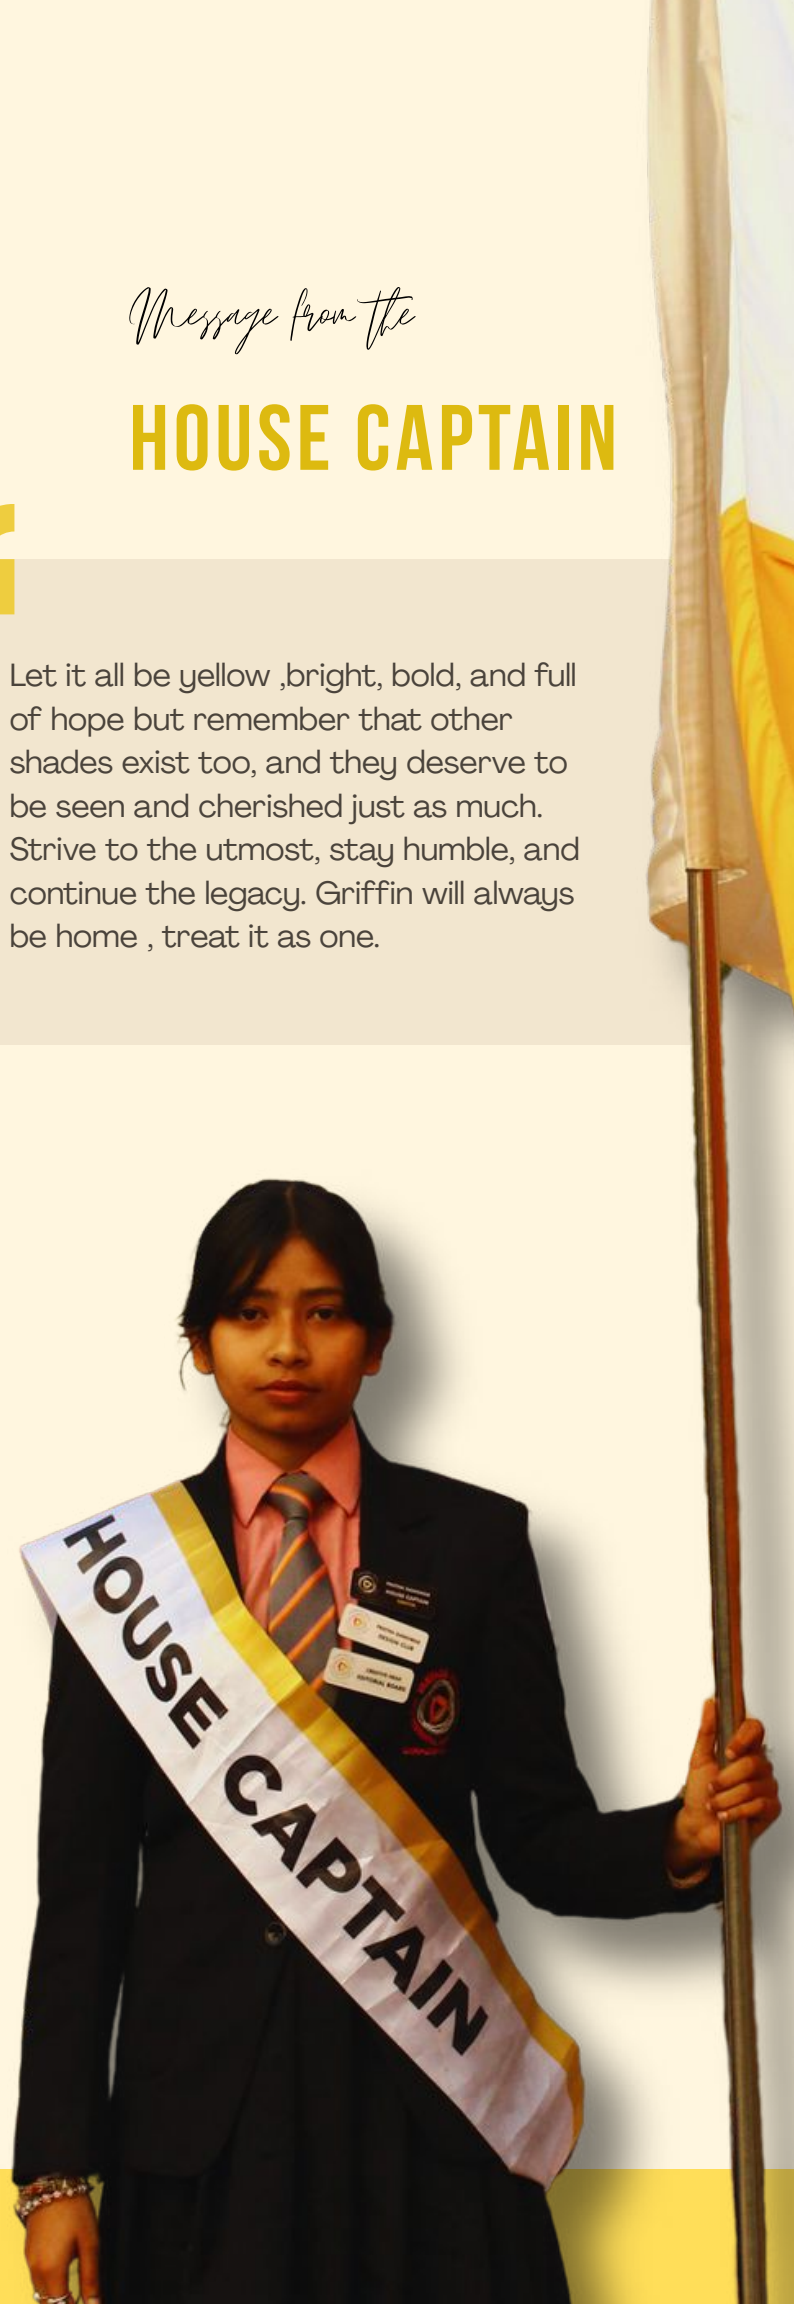

Strive to the Utmost

Message from the

HOUSE CAPTAIN

Let it all be yellow ,bright, bold, and full of hope but remember that other shades exist too, and they deserve to be seen and cherished just as much. Strive to the utmost, stay humble, and continue the legacy. Griffin will always be home , treat it as one.

Griffin has always been more than just a house to me—it has been a second home, a space where I grew, learned, and evolved alongside the most incredible girls. Here, we learned that what truly mattered was never the trophies, but the memories: the nights we wanted to give up but didn't, the faces that lifted us when we were too tired to stand, the sweat, setbacks, and silent sacrifices no one ever saw. We were never the loudest in the room, nor did we chase the spotlight. We didn't speak to be heard—we acted to be remembered. We showed up, got to work, and let our results speak. While others slept, we rehearsed; when others doubted, we delivered; and when storms came our way, we flew straight through them.

As I write this for the last time as the Griffin House Captain, my heart is full of gratitude. What did we not do to make even our most basic performances exceptional? Early mornings, endless practices, repeated corrections, tired legs, hoarse voices,directly pulling off the theatre in the first go and always being stuck in some or the other crisis and still choosing to give more than our best—every single time. None of this would have been possible without my pillar of strength, my Vice Captain, Zoya, whose quiet resilience, constant support, and always having a belief in the house that held us together even on the toughest days.

This year also taught us that leadership is not selfish—it is shared. We always believed that every house matters, because the stage belongs to all, and every effort counts. That is who we are as Griffinites. To each one of you, I want to say this: no matter how strong the urge to make your house win, never lose your calm, and never take a path where victory turns into regret. Stay rooted in your values and never forget where you came from—this is what truly sets us apart. I know I scolded you, stood firm on my decisions, and sometimes didn't listen as much as I should have, but it was always to teach you that empathy matters just as much as excellence.

I will miss every single girl in this house and I hope they will too. Each one of you is iconic in your own way—junior or senior, everyone brought something irreplaceable. Being House Captain is the best thing I have ever done. It gave me a family, an emotional bond I will carry forever, and the confidence to dream without limits. I take a small part of each of you with me—your strength, talent, and even your imperfections, because they are beautiful too.

HOUSE VICE CAPTAIN

You will fall,
we'll rise again,
our hopes unrushed,
we soar, we strive
(in a cute way).

"Hold me , console me and then I'll leave without a trace."

I leave behind not silence, but the warmth of everything we were, trusting it will linger long after this moment passes.
Griffin has turned me into a mosaic of everything it has taught me: confidence, trust, fragments of laughter, lessons learned in quiet moments, and strength borrowed from every single griffinite or say "peeps".

I don't remember exactly when I started calling y'all peeps. Maybe during the chaos of interhouse days from calling you "NPCs" to us reassuring each other that we'll be just fine. The cries after that "0.5" to tears of joy. In the midst of it all y'all turn into "my Peeps"

Being your vice-captain has been an honor I'll always cherish, even the sore throats from cheering and the last-minute chaos before events. Griffin gave me memories, friendships, and a sense of belonging I'll carry forever.

When I go somewhere else beyond these concrete walls, under a different sun, among pools of unfamiliar faces, I know I will learn to belong there. I will adapt, and life will move forward. But no matter how far I go, I will never be YELLOW again. Because yellow was never just a color. It was the comfort of being known, the strength of standing together, and the quiet certainty that I was never alone. It was the voices that cheered when we were tired, the hands that pulled me forward when I doubted myself, and the pride that stayed even after the noises faded. And the hand which was always there, was Pratha's, the only one who never doubted my abilities and happily shared every cry and laughter of hers with me.

As I am signing off, the badge may come off but my love for the house never will. Thank you for trusting me, supporting me and making it all worth it. I'll miss shouting the loudest.

We'll meet again, don't know where, don't know when, till then goodbye chat.

Rise from the Ashes

Message from the

HOUSE CAPTAIN

> Thank you,
> Phoenix House,
> for everything.

Phoenix always rises from the ashes, and in many ways, so have I through this journey. Ever since Grade 9, I dreamt of becoming the Phoenix House Captain, and this year, that dream turned into one of the most meaningful and unforgettable experiences of my school life.

From the very first house meeting, where everything felt new and a little uncertain, to the final inter house event, where we stood together stronger than ever, this journey has been truly special.

I still remember the excitement and nervousness of leading for the first time—wondering if I would be able to guide everyone well. But as the year progressed, each practice, each competition, and each shared moment helped build not just a team, but a family. Every member of Phoenix House played a role in making this year memorable, and I am incredibly grateful for the constant cooperation, enthusiasm, and support you all showed.

There were challenges, of course, but it was during those times that I saw the true spirit of Phoenix—resilient, united, and determined. From the late night practices to the little moments of conversations we shared, every memory became a part of this journey. We celebrated every win together with pride and joy, and after every loss, we stood by each other, offering support and strength. Whether we won or learned from setbacks, we always stayed united, and that is something I will carry with me forever.

I would also like to extend a special thank you to my Vice Captain, Vaanika, whose dedication and support made everything smoother and stronger [Thanks to her you all are still alive].

This house has taught me what it truly means to lead—with patience, understanding, and belief in others. It has become an integral part of my final year, leaving me with memories I will always cherish.

To the future leaders and members of Phoenix House—keep the spirit alive, aim higher, and continue to support one another. Always remember our motto, AS HIGH AS HONOUR, and never be afraid to rise from your ashes when faced with challenges. I have no doubt you will achieve even greater heights.

HOUSE VICE CAPTAIN

Always remember to give your best, make us proud because we fly high, we win loud~

Being the Vice-Captain of Phoenix House has been far more than a responsibility - it has been a journey that shaped who I am. When I first stepped into this role, I believed leadership was about giving directions and setting examples. But somewhere along the way, you taught me otherwise. Before I could ever teach discipline, my house taught it to me. And for that, I will always be grateful.

Phoenix House was never just a team to me. It became a family - one that challenged me as well as supported me. I don't think I could have ever looked at this house the same way if I hadn't been its Vicey.

This badge gave me memories I will carry long after school corridors fade into nostalgia. Some things aren't meant to be left behind, and Phoenix - my house, my pride, is one of them.

Through early morning practices, tiring rehearsals, last-minute chaos, and unforgettable victories, we stood together. We learned that winning matters, but unity matters more.

"Success is best when it's shared," and every cheer made this journey worthwhile. And while you give your best during house practices, don't forget to enjoy them too - because years later, I'm telling you - it's these moments you'll miss the most. And as the saying goes, "Great leaders don't create followers, they create more leaders." Watching each one of you rise and stand tall has been my proudest achievement.

This house is closest to my heart and soul. Even when life moves forward, a part of me will always belong here. I'd still work for you, stand by you, and fight for you - right till my last breath. And yes, I'll still be around to save you all when Mudita turns into the occasional angry bird (just kidding... maybe).

Thank you, Phoenix House, for trusting me, teaching me, and becoming my forever home.

Once a Phoenix, always a Phoenix.

Conquer from Within

Message from the

HOUSE CAPTAIN

> We won together, we lost together, and every cheer was a promise kept.

The Vantage Hall bell never simply rang; it was a rhythmic question asking, "Who have you become?" For two years, the sound measured our growth, from hesitant freshmen to the seniors who now stand here, slightly terrified and fully transformed. The classrooms weren't just spaces for lessons; they were mirrors reflecting our struggles and triumphs. We walked in for history and left with philosophy.

My journey here became a vibrant chaos the moment I donned the blazer of Thunderbird House. As House Captain, I learned that "leadership is not about standing in front, but standing with." To my fellow Thunderbirds, the true power of our House was never in the trophy count, but in the sheer, imperfect heart of every member—thank you for teaching me that courage is often just calm pretending. We won together, we lost together, and every cheer was a promise kept.

Beyond the competitive roar, my sanctuary was the stage. Being the Dance Club President in Grade 12 was about surviving chaos with rhythm. In the studio, where music was louder than any pressure, I realized: "When life got loud, dance taught me how to breathe." That rhythm carried us through grueling Inter-school Dance Competitions, where we didn't just compete—we told stories with our bodies. We forgot steps, laughed too hard, and danced like pressure didn't exist.

Grade 12 was heavy with expectations and light with moments I'll miss forever. We all felt the weight of impending endings, but we also found humor in the late-night study sessions and the chaos of the last few weeks.

I didn't just attend Vantage Hall—I lived it. I arrived unsure and left unfinished, but brave. Because "school doesn't end with a farewell; it continues in the person you become." And if these walls could speak, they would simply say: I grew here.

To Thunderbird House: “The people who made a house feel like home”

As I reflect on my journey as Vice Captain of Thunderbird House, I am filled with immense gratitude. Being a part of this remarkable house has been one of the most enriching experiences of my school life, and it has been an honor to help lead such a passionate and spirited house.

Throughout this journey, I gained invaluable lessons and created memories that I will cherish forever. From the backstage chaos before competitions to shouting our lungs out when cheering for our house, from working together as a team to supporting each other through challenges, each experience played an important role in shaping this journey. The encouragement we offered to one another and our shared dedication to giving our best have strengthened the spirit that defines Thunderbird House.

I learned that leadership is not only about guiding others, but also about growing alongside them. In every challenge faced, every victory celebrated, and every moment of laughter shared, I witnessed the strength and power that emerges when individuals come together as one united group. Our house motto, “Conquer from Within”, served as a constant reminder to persevere, remain united, and believe in ourselves during challenging moments.

I am grateful to the teachers and staff members who have supported and guided me with their unwavering support and encouragement.

Leading Thunderbird House has shown me that a house is more than just a name or a team. It is a family, a force, and a spirit that lives in every cheer, every effort, and every moment we share. As we move forward into new chapters of our lives, the lessons we’ve learned and the bonds we’ve forged will continue to guide us. I am proud not just of our achievements, but of the courage, passion, and heart each of you has brought to Thunderbird. Together, we didn’t just represent a house - we became a home.

This year, the Falcons raised the bar with their performances, giving meticulous attention to every element, from elegant body posture to expressive facial movements. Their hard work was evident in the inter-house competition, where they impressed the audience with a vibrant mix of dance forms, including Bhangra, Garba, and Lavni.

In the inter-house solo dance competition, centred on the theme of folk dance, performers from each house brought something unique to the stage. Pratha Gangwar of Griffin House presented a dynamic freestyle performance, Hiyara from Phoenix House showcased the grace of Kathak, and Aradhya Gupta of Thunderbird House delivered a powerful Tandav. Phoenix House ultimately claimed victory in both categories.

What truly set the Falcons apart was their dedication beyond scheduled practice hours. With unwavering enthusiasm, they poured their hearts into every performance, making each one memorable. Their passion, discipline, and unity not only made them a formidable team but also reflected the true spirit of perseverance and excellence.

CLASSICAL DANCE

The Inter-House Hindi Classical Music Competition, held on 3rd November, filled the school auditorium with soulful melodies and a deep sense of cultural pride. The event celebrated India's rich musical heritage, bringing together students who showcased their dedication to both classical and folk traditions. Each house presented a variety of performances, including Hindi classical compositions and traditional folk songs, each rendered with precision, emotion, and artistic maturity. From powerful vocal renditions to rhythmically engaging accompaniments, every performance reflected hours of practice and a genuine connection with music.

The atmosphere throughout the competition was calm yet captivating, marked by attentive silence, warm applause, and mutual appreciation among participants. Judged by an experienced panel, the competition stood as a testament to musical excellence and house spirit. More than a contest, the event became a memorable celebration of culture, learning, and the timeless beauty of Indian music.

CLASSICAL MUSIC

Students brought the stage alive with rhythm, passion, and powerful performance during this year's inter-house Western Dance competition. All houses enthusiastically participated in the competition, and each gave a performance that demonstrated commitment, coordination, and artistic expression.

From the energizing hip hop performances to having their own artist preferences, the event took place in the midst of nonstop cheering and passionate applause, pausing only to welcome the next team onto the stage. The dancers' dedication was demonstrated behind the scenes by their late-night practices, never-ending rehearsals, and unwavering teamwork.

At the conclusion of the event, Phoenix House and Thunderbird House jointly secured the first position, while Griffin House emerged as the runner-up. The competition stood as a celebration of talent, unity, and perseverance, leaving behind lasting memories and an unforgettable display of Western dance.

WESTERN DANCE

The Inter-House Hindi Debate proved to be an intellectually stimulating and dynamic event, featuring meaningful and fruitful discussions among senior participants from Classes 10 to 12. Students including Amairah Negi, Pratha Gangwar, Ipsa Rungta, Mudita Bhandari, Kanishka Khatri, and Aaradhya Gupta showcased exceptional oratory skills, critical thinking, and persuasive argumentation.

The debates were marked by clarity of ideas, strong rebuttals, and confident delivery, reflecting thorough preparation and deep understanding of the topics. The event not only highlighted the participants' command over the Hindi language but also their ability to engage in constructive discourse, making it a truly enriching experience for all.

HINDI DEBATE

The Inter-House English Debate was a compelling and intellectually enriching event, marked by meaningful and thought-provoking discussions. Senior students from Classes 10 to 12, including Partha Gangwar, Leesha Goel, Ananya Shah, Nishita Elangbam, Moli Agarwal, and Alice Elangbam, demonstrated exceptional oratory skills, confidence, and critical thinking.

The debates were characterized by well-structured arguments, persuasive delivery, and impactful rebuttals. Participants displayed a strong command over language and content, making the discussions both insightful and engaging. The event successfully fostered analytical thinking and articulate expression, making it a truly rewarding experience for all.

ENGLISH DEBATE

The Inter-House Quiz Competition witnessed enthusiastic and spirited participation across the Sub-Junior, Junior, and Senior categories, making it an engaging and intellectually stimulating event. Students showcased commendable knowledge, sharp analytical skills, and impressive presence of mind while tackling a diverse range of questions. Each house competed with great zeal and teamwork, creating a vibrant atmosphere of healthy competition. Griffin House secured the first position, followed by Phoenix House in second place, while Thunderbird House stood third. The event fostered confidence, collaboration, and intellectual growth among participants.

GK QUIZ

The Inter-House English Literary Competition was a vibrant celebration of language, expression, and intellectual engagement, bringing together students across grades to showcase their command over the English language. The event beautifully highlighted the progressive development of literary skills from the junior to the senior school.

Students from the junior grades up to Class 7 captivated the audience with expressive elocutions and poem recitations, marked by clarity, confidence, and emotional depth. Classes 8 and 9 demonstrated maturity and thoughtfulness through well-structured speeches, addressing diverse themes with conviction and eloquence.

Each performance reflected hours of preparation and a deep appreciation for literature and oratory. Judged on content, delivery, and overall impact, the competition encouraged confidence, critical thinking, and effective communication. The Inter-House English Literary Competition stood as a testament to the school's commitment to nurturing articulate, reflective, and confident speakers.

ENGLISH ELOCUTION

This year's Inter House Art and Design Competition was a spectacular celebration of creativity and artistic expression. With creativity as the central theme, the event showcased an exciting blend of talent across various categories, including face painting, art painting, fashion designing, photography, and videography. Each house presented unique ideas and innovative designs, transforming imagination into powerful visual stories.

Griffin House emerged as the overall winner, impressing the judges with its exceptional creativity, attention to detail, and originality across all categories. Their work reflected a strong artistic vision and seamless execution, earning them the first position. Phoenix House followed closely, securing the second position with its bold concepts, striking visuals, and well-crafted designs that demonstrated confidence and innovation. Thunderbird House also delivered a noteworthy performance, showcasing expressive face painting, creative artwork, and thoughtful visual presentations, earning them the third position.

The competition was more than just a contest; it was a platform for students to explore creativity, experiment with ideas, and express themselves through different art forms. Overall, the Inter House Art and Design Competition was a memorable event that celebrated talent, creativity, and the spirit of artistic excellence.

ART & DESIGN

This year's Inter House drama competition was nothing short of extraordinary, a celebration of originality and imagination that left a lasting impression on everyone present. With the theme of self-scripted performances, the competition was fierce, with only a few points separating each house.

Thunderbird House moved the audience with their powerful portrayal of hope and resilience, presenting a story that highlighted the will to rise above hardships. Phoenix House captivated everyone with their play titled Flawless, a performance that lived up to its name through seamless execution and a compelling narrative that kept the audience engaged throughout. Griffin House presented Journey of a Dreamer, a beautifully written script that followed the struggles, ambitions, and determination of a dreamer chasing their goals against all odds.

Beyond the competition, the event was a valuable learning experience, teaching students the importance of teamwork, creativity, and self-expression. Each house delivered a memorable performance, making the competition truly special. In the end, Griffin House bagged the Inter House Drama Competition, bringing the event to a fitting and well-deserved conclusion.

MUSICAL THEATRE

The Inter-House Hindi Elocution showcased a vibrant display of expression, confidence, and linguistic finesse. The junior section, comprising Classes 3 to 8, presented cheerful and lively recitations that beautifully reflected clarity of speech, rhythm, and enthusiasm. Participants such as Tanistha Jaiswal, Chitrakshi Arora, Vidushi Panwar, Sonakshi Verma, and Keerti Kumari captivated the audience with their engaging delivery and strong stage presence.

The Class 9 segment further elevated the event with thoughtful speeches by Caira Kareen and Kanishka Tahiliani, demonstrating maturity of thought and articulation. Overall, the elocution segment was a delightful blend of confidence, creativity, and expressive storytelling, leaving the audience thoroughly impressed.

HINDI ELOCUTION

The Inter-House Board Display Competition offered a vibrant showcase of creativity as each house designed a board reflecting its identity, values, and guiding philosophy. Inspired by mythological birds, the displays beautifully combined colour, imagery, and thought-provoking themes.

Griffin House, represented in yellow, highlighted the strength and vigilance of the Griffin, with the motto "Strive to the Utmost" symbolising courage, determination, and excellence. Phoenix House, in orange, drew inspiration from the legendary bird of rebirth, presenting the motto "As High as Honour," reflecting resilience, renewal, and rising above challenges. Thunderbird House, displayed in pink, showcased inner strength and transformation through its motto "Conquer from Within," emphasising self-belief and emotional power.

Each board thoughtfully portrayed the essence of its house through creative layouts, symbolic elements, and meaningful reflections. The competition stood as a celebration of imagination, teamwork, and the core values that unite and define each house.

HOUSE BOARD

NEGOTIUM AGON

The school proudly participated in Negotium Agon 2025, a prestigious inter-school business festival hosted by Wynberg Allen School, Mussoorie, on 26th July. The event tested participants' entrepreneurial aptitude, creativity, and financial acumen through a series of challenging rounds including business quizzes, auctions, and marketing simulations.

Under the guidance of Ms. Meenu Batra and Ms. Surbhi Goel, the team comprising Tejasvini Paresh Patel, Leesha Goel, Kamakshi Singh, Riya Bhagyawan Gharge, and Vaanika Arora delivered an impressive performance.

Leesha Goel (Grade XII Commerce) was recognised for her outstanding performance, while Kamakshi Singh and Riya Bhagyawan Gharge secured the Third Prize in Vine Videography, bringing laurels to the school.

NAVEEN DEBATE

The school participated in the Naveen Agarwal Interschool Debate Competition held at Unison World School on 13th and 14th August 2025. The competition brought together talented debaters from various schools, providing a platform to showcase critical thinking, articulation, and persuasive skills.

Under the guidance of Ms. Suranjana and Ms. Ayantika Guha, the English Debate Team, comprising Leesha Goel, K. Dhanya Raju, Alice Elangbam, Caira Kareen, and Taarika Bhanot delivered an उत्कृष्ट performance, securing the Second Runners-Up Trophy. Alice Elangbam was also awarded the Best Speaker for her exceptional oratory skills.

The school participated in From Page to Stage, an inter-school competition hosted by Hopetown School on 15th February 2025, offering a diverse platform for creative expression across multiple disciplines. Guided by a dedicated team of teachers, students showcased their talents in events ranging from art and literature to music, drama, and technology.

The school achieved remarkable success with First Positions in Poster Making (Aanya Jain), Word Wizardry (Sneha Ramraika and Taarika Bhanot), Unplugged (Maira Panwar, Rida Sharma, Lalthankimi). THE Choreography (Dance Team). The Drama Team secured Second Position, while Webpage Designing (Sanjana Bharti and Navdha Chola) also achieved Second Position.

The event highlighted students' creativity, versatility, and teamwork, making it a highly enriching and rewarding experience.

CHUCKERBUTTY DEBATE

The school participated in the prestigious Chucks Debate and Quiz Competition hosted by The Doon School from 28th to 30th August 2025. This renowned event, featuring the iconic Chuckerbutty Memorial Debates and The Doon School Quiz, brought together some of the finest young minds from across the country, fostering rigorous intellectual exchange, critical thinking, and analytical skills.

Under the guidance of Ms. Suranjana, the Debate Team, comprising Leesha Goel, Gargi Arya, and Ananya Shah delivered a commendable performance, with Ananya Shah being awarded the Most Promising Speaker for her impressive articulation and reasoning.
The Quiz Team, represented by K. Dhanya Raju and Tejasvini Paresh Patel, also participated with enthusiasm and determination.

MAYO MUN

The Mayo Model United Nations Conference, held from 17th to 20th April 2025 at Mayo College Girls' School, Ajmer, brought together young delegates for four days of rigorous debate, diplomacy, and international engagement. Representing diverse countries, portfolios, and press organizations, students demonstrated strong research skills, confidence, and global awareness across committees.

SPECTRUM

The Spectrum 2025 Creative Art Competition, held at Unison World School, was a vibrant platform that celebrated creativity, imagination, and artistic excellence. Students from various schools participated in a wide range of engaging art-based categories such as Solo Pixel, Kaleidoscope, Mono Material, Wild Fusion, Toontastic Salad, Cantastoria, Quid Pro Quo, The Machinarium, The Atlantis, and Figurine, each highlighting unique forms of visual expression and innovation.

As observers, our school delivered a strong and commendable performance. We secured 2nd position in Figurine, 1st position in Toontastic Salad, 2nd position in Cantastoria, 1st position in Quid Pro Quo, 2nd position in The Machinarium, and 2nd position in The Atlantis, reflecting the students' creativity, teamwork, and artistic skill. The competition concluded with the Overall Trophy being awarded to the House of Elegance.

Overall, Spectrum 2025 proved to be an enriching and inspiring experience, encouraging artistic exploration and celebrating the true spirit of creativity among young talents.

SILVER FIESTA

Silver Fiesta, an Inter-School Film Appreciation Competition, was held at Kasiga School and proved to be an engaging and thought-provoking event. The competition provided students with a valuable platform to analyze films, understand cinematic elements, and present their interpretations with confidence and clarity.

Our school was proudly represented by Pratha Gangwar, Kamakshi Singh, and Anay Sehgal, who showcased exceptional analytical skills, creativity, and teamwork. Their insightful presentation and strong understanding of film appreciation helped them secure the 1st position in the competition. This achievement was made possible under the able guidance and mentorship of Ms. Kritika Goel, whose support played a significant role in shaping their performance.

Overall, Silver Fiesta was a rewarding and enriching experience that promoted critical thinking, collaboration, and a deeper appreciation of cinema. The event inspired students to explore films beyond entertainment and recognize them as a powerful form of artistic expression.

INITIATIVES

UMMEED

UMEED focuses on donation drives for women and children, providing essentials such as sanitary products, clothing, and food. The initiative reflects compassion in action, fostering empathy alongside service. It also emphasizes dignity and inclusivity, ensuring that every contribution respects the needs and circumstances of the beneficiaries. By encouraging community participation, UMEED builds a strong network of volunteers who not only contribute resources but also their time and care.

IGNITE

IGNITE, developed in collaboration with the Sachchidanand Foundation, is a student-led programme focused on empowering underserved students with essential 21st-century skills. With sessions held twice a week, Wednesdays build confidence through English communication and public speaking, while Saturdays focus on IT and financial literacy, covering skills like online safety, budgeting, and digital payments. Through interactive activities and peer learning, Ignite transforms hesitation into confidence and opportunity.

ECO-TOTE

EcoTote focuses on creative upcycling, converting waste materials such as plastic bags, chip packets, discarded fabrics, jute, and old packaging into durable, reusable bags. By giving new life to materials that would otherwise be discarded, the initiative encourages responsible consumption while promoting innovation and resourcefulness among students. Each product stands as a reminder that sustainability often begins with small, thoughtful choices.

POLY-TERRA TILES

Polly Terra Tiles is an innovative sustainability initiative that transforms discarded plastic into strong, reusable, eco-friendly tiles. The project focuses on repurposing plastic waste into a practical and durable alternative, giving discarded materials a new purpose while promoting responsible waste management.

Guided by mentor Meenu Batra, the students explored creative ways to turn an environmental challenge into a meaningful solution. Through experimentation, teamwork, and innovative thinking, the project reflects the values of sustainability, resourcefulness, and purposeful design. Polly Terra Tiles stands as an inspiring example of how simple ideas can contribute to building a cleaner and more sustainable future.

Festivals & Celebrations

If there's one thing our school knows how to do, it's celebrate. But what makes every festival and event at Vantage Hall so special isn't just the music or the decorations—it's the way all of us come together to make them happen.
This year was packed with moments we'll be talking about for a long time. Every time a major celebration rolled around, the whole campus completely transformed with a fresh wave of energy. From the huge school-wide events to the smaller gatherings, there was always that familiar warmth of everyone pitching in, sharing food, and just enjoying being together.

The best part about an all-girls school like ours is that you never have to celebrate alone. Whether it was older students cheering on the younger grades or the whole school singing the school song together after an assembly, the energy was always infectious.
Looking back at these photos, it's easy to see why our community feels so close. The events themselves might only last a day or two, but the memories, the inside jokes, and the bonds we made during them are going to stick with us forever.

2026 DESTINATIONS

GRADE 3-8

JAIPUR

Annual School Trip to Jaipur

Students from Grades 3 to 8 embarked on their annual school trip to Jaipur, experiencing a wonderful blend of learning, exploration, and fun. The trip offered them an opportunity to step beyond the classroom and discover the rich history, culture, and traditions of the Pink City. They visited several iconic historical and cultural landmarks, gaining deeper insight into Rajasthan's fascinating heritage and architectural splendour.

Alongside sightseeing and learning, the students enjoyed spending quality time with their peers, strengthening friendships and creating cherished memories. The vibrant surroundings, local culture, and exciting experiences made the journey both educational and enjoyable. With moments of laughter, discovery, and adventure, the Jaipur trip proved to be a truly memorable experience for all the students.

GRADE 9

MANALI

The Grade 9 trip to Manali was undoubtedly one of the most memorable highlights of the year. Away from the familiar rhythm of classrooms and assignments, the journey gave us the opportunity to explore, bond, and create memories that will be treasured for years to come.

Surrounded by the majestic Himalayas, every day brought a new adventure. From visiting scenic spots and enjoying exciting activities to sharing laughter during long bus rides and evenings filled with music and conversations, each moment added something special to the experience. The crisp mountain air, breathtaking landscapes, and the joy of discovering a new place together made the trip truly unforgettable.

More than just a getaway, the journey strengthened friendships, encouraged teamwork, and reminded us that some of the most meaningful lessons are learned beyond the four walls of a classroom. We returned not only with countless photographs and souvenirs, but with stories, shared experiences, and memories that continue to bring smiles long after the trip ended.

The Manali trip will always remain a cherished chapter of our school journey one filled with adventure, friendship, and moments that we will fondly look back on for years to come.

GRADE 11

JAIPUR AND DELHI

The Grade 11 trip to Jaipur was a memorable journey filled with history, culture, and unforgettable experiences. Known as the Pink City, Jaipur welcomed the girls with its magnificent forts, vibrant streets, and rich traditions.

One of the highlights of the trip was exploring the majestic Amber Fort, where the grand architecture and royal heritage was fascinated. A visit to Jantar Mantar gave an insight into the brilliance of ancient astronomy, while exploring the colourful markets, Jaipur's traditional crafts, handicrafts, jewellery, and shopping culture were introduced.

The evening at Chokhi Dhani was a truly special experience, offering a glimpse of Rajasthan's vibrant traditions through folk performances, cultural activities, and authentic cuisine.

Beyond sightseeing, the trip was about creating memories with friends, sharing laughter, and experiencing the beauty of a new culture together. The returned was accompanied by cherished photographs, wonderful stories, and moments that will always remain a treasured part of their journey.

RIVER SIDE

The students of Vantage Hall Girls' Residential School visited a nearby Strawberry Farm for an enriching and enjoyable excursion that connected them with nature and agricultural practices.
During the visit, the students learned about strawberry cultivation and actively participated in planting saplings under the guidance of the farm staff. They also experienced the joy of plucking fresh strawberries directly from the fields and carrying them back home as a memorable takeaway from the trip.
The excursion proved to be both educational and refreshing, giving students hands-on exposure to farming techniques while encouraging teamwork, environmental awareness, and appreciation for nature. The visit was thoroughly enjoyed by all and became a memorable learning experience outside the classroom.

An excursion to
REGIONAL SCIENCE CENTER

The Science stream students of Grade XII, along with a few selected Falcons from Vantage Hall Girls' Residential School, visited the Regional Science Centre as part of an educational excursion aimed at promoting experiential learning and scientific awareness.

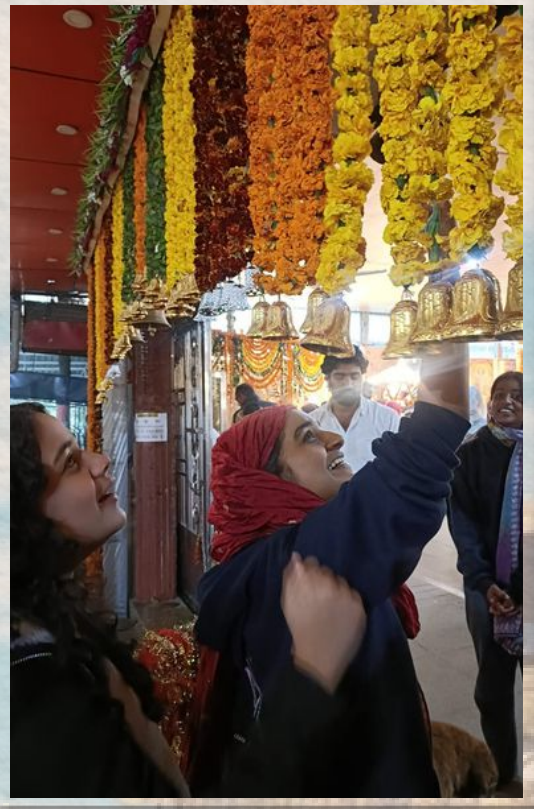

During the visit, the students explored a variety of interactive exhibits and scientific models related to physics, astronomy, robotics, environmental science, and technological innovation. They also observed engaging demonstrations and participated enthusiastically in hands-on activities that enhanced their understanding of scientific concepts beyond the classroom.

The excursion proved to be both informative and inspiring, encouraging curiosity, analytical thinking, and a deeper appreciation for science and technology. The students returned with valuable knowledge and memorable experiences that enriched their academic learning.

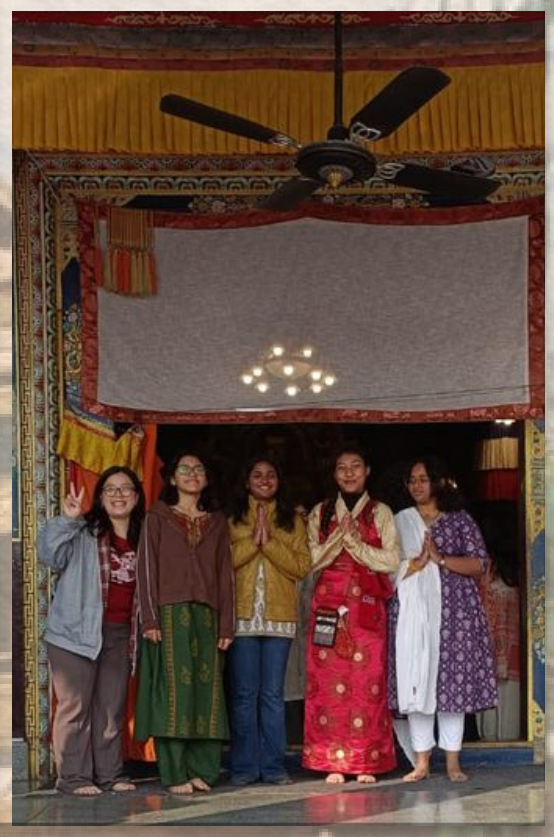

All our Falcons in grades 3-12 enjoyed a recreational outing to Pacific Mall, where students from all grades came together for a refreshing and enjoyable experience off campus. During the outing, the students watched a movie together, creating moments of excitement, laughter, and bonding among peers. They also spent time exploring the mall and enjoying snacks and refreshments, making the day both relaxing and memorable.

The trip provided students with a pleasant break from their academic routine and encouraged social interaction, teamwork, and camaraderie. The outing was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone and proved to be a delightful experience for all the students and accompanying staff members.

MONASTERY VISIT

The Falcons of Grade XII from Vantage Hall Girls' Residential School visited a serene Buddha Monastery as part of an educational and cultural excursion.

The visit offered students an opportunity to experience the peaceful atmosphere of the monastery and learn about Buddhist culture, traditions, and values. Surrounded by beautiful architecture and tranquil surroundings, the students explored the monastery grounds and appreciated its spiritual significance.

The excursion proved to be a calming and enriching experience, encouraging reflection, cultural understanding, and mindfulness among the students. The visit left everyone with a sense of peace and memorable insights into a different cultural and spiritual heritage.

The students of Grade IX and Grade XI, along with a few selected students from various classes, visited the Indian Military Academy for an enriching educational excursion.

During the visit, the students gained valuable insights into the disciplined lifestyle, rigorous training, and inspiring legacy of the Indian Armed Forces. One of the highlights of the excursion was witnessing the rehearsal of the grand Passing Out Parade march past, where the students observed the cadets' precision, coordination, and unwavering discipline with great admiration. The visit also offered an opportunity to learn about the values of leadership, dedication, courage, and patriotism upheld at the academy.

The experience proved to be highly motivating and memorable, leaving the students inspired by the spirit of service and commitment displayed by the future officers of the nation.

BHADRAJ TREK

The students of Grade XI undertook an adventurous trek to the Bhadraj Temple, enjoying a memorable experience amidst the scenic beauty of nature.

The trek provided students with an opportunity to build endurance, teamwork, and confidence while exploring the serene hills and picturesque surroundings. Upon reaching the temple, the students experienced a sense of peace and accomplishment, appreciating both the spiritual significance of the place and the breathtaking views around it.

The excursion proved to be both refreshing and enriching, encouraging resilience, cooperation, and a deeper connection with nature. The students thoroughly enjoyed the adventurous outing and returned with unforgettable memories.

The Art Fair 2026, held from 5th to 8th February at the NSIC Exhibition Grounds, Okhla, Delhi, was an enriching and inspiring experience for the selected Grade 9 and Grade 11 students of Vantage Hall. The students explored a diverse range of paintings, sculptures, galleries and contemporary installations, gaining a deeper understanding of how art can communicate ideas, emotions and stories.

The visit also featured interactive experiences, including a virtual reality exhibition, an illuminated Chinese dragon display and a hands-on bamboo workshop where students explored eco-friendly crafts and organic colours. The experience encouraged creativity, observation and curiosity, leaving the students with a renewed appreciation for the many forms and possibilities of art.

JAPAN

The nine-day trip to Japan was a memorable blend of culture, history, technology, and adventure. Students experienced traditional bonsai making, explored Tokyo Skytree and Mount Fuji, and immersed themselves in the futuristic world of teamLab. Visits to Hiroshima, the Ninja and Samurai Museum, and Osaka Aquarium offered valuable insights into Japan's history and heritage, while Universal Studios and shopping excursions added to the excitement.

A highlight was the school exchange programme, where students interacted with Japanese students and gained firsthand insight into their education system. From ancient traditions to modern innovations, the trip provided enriching experiences and lasting memories.

Recently, our schedules have been filled with assignments, unnecessary amounts of caffeine, questionable decisions, and somehow, a lot of good memories. Grade 9 brought new faces, new stories, and enough inside jokes to last several lifetimes. We're not quite done yet but if this year was anything to go by, the next ones should be interesting.

Recently, our lives shifted into a world full of responsibilities, unexpectedly bringing us closer together. Stepping into Grade 11 brought a drastic change no one warned us about – we thought life would become more carefree, yet here we are, hustling every day to keep up. Hustling together, growing together, and ready for whatever comes next.

And suddenly, we were in Grade 12. Manali, Mumbai, Jaipur, competitions, inter-houses, late-night jams, ice-cream rides, mall trips, festivals, birthdays and all the chaos in between came rushing back. We went from being participants to captains, from worrying about the council to somehow making it through every unexpected turn. We fought, laughed, kept secrets, broke a few rules and made memories we'll probably never stop talking about. But the strangest part was knowing there was no "next year" anymore. Everything had quietly become a "last." This playlist is for all the moments that made us, us.

#TheSoundtrackToOurStory

If these years had a sound, it'd be a chaos of main-character anthems, late-night tracks, sing-alongs from all those bus rides and the songs we'll play when we're feeling nostalgic ten years from now. We couldn't all agree on the dress code, the aux cord, or what was actually going to be on the test, but we definitely knew how to set the vibe. This is our high school mixtape <3

Reflections

PRATHA GANGWAR

As a child this place felt ethereal , a dream I wished to step in . But now I've spent eight years in these halls, and in quiet ways, this place has shaped who I am. It didn't always change me loudly or quickly, but slowly, with intention. If someone expects results then definitely have to have patience with this place . Vantage for me is not a second home , it is my home . Every minute second spent here has taught my numerous lessons . Made me emotionally strong and taught me the true meaning of inculcating values within . No matter how bad the times were , at the end of the day I got out of my comfort zone and turned from a girl who was so terrified to show herself up in public to confidently fulfilling every task put forward and gave us the voice to stand up for ourselves and others. Leaving this place , all the people who I care about , every moment spent in each corner and each laughter is the most difficult decision to make . This place has loved us enough to let us go . The best decision I've ever taken is to become a house captain , it showed me what happiness feels like and gave an entire family . All I am left is with the fragments of every tiniest aspect which tried to shape me , feel me and made me this capable and taught me to dream .
Today, I become speechless with no words left to describe the inner feeling but something I am sure of is that I'll forever be a falcon , forever be a Griffinite and will achieve everything in my life to make 'this' home and family proud .
I'll never forget to be humble and to contribute the learning in whatever way possible. This place watched me become, and for that, I owe it a quiet kind of forever.
With love and gratitude,
Pratha Gangwar

APRILLA KABAK

Summer of 24'
This was the summer when I first set foot in the Vantage family,not gonna lie I was scared not because it was My first boarding school but my last one,I had already thought of all the possible situations I would face later when I'm here and the later did come.TUFF TIMES!
11:14 pm
17/12/26
I'm writing my reflection diaries 2 days prior physics-exam listening to 'WE ARE BULLETPROOF:The eternal' by BTS munching on my doritos'solving sample papers, but got really tired so decided to write this.
There are many things I want to say about the memories I built here in the span of 2 years.Everyday was a new day,a new ray of sunshine,sometimes a new day but a bad hair day.
Bunking morning sports by hiding in the corner of the art room,jumping out from the Theatre room,joining all the soft seatings in the classroom to take a quick nap, just to get caught after a few minutes.From faking a headache, just to get that 2 hours of golden sleep, packing the breakfast paranthas so that we can munch on it later during our break time,running to book the canopy ,somewhat not attending english classes to coming to dorm on a specific time just to play ludo, all of this should be counted as a memory, right?
Going to the friendship department, I would say it was the funniest and riskiest rollercoaster ever. Staying in this school taught me how to deal with "all types of people" even myself and I'll forever be grateful to that.
Friends were not just friends but family. As I always found myself in a pool of unpromising situations,my broski's pulled me out ,just fine.
People's opinion clashed but not on the OG red chutney and stuffed naan. I would always look forward to having it (even after 10 whole years). [SHOUTOUT TO JAGDISH BHAIYA]
Now ending on the best note,
Vantage as a family guided me a lot, teaching me to adapt to new things making me ,somewhat,realise I lived half of my TEENAGE DREAM.
Thank you
APRILLA XOXO
P.S- SORRY Seema ma'am for bunking english class sometimes

MESSAGES

LOVED ONES

Kamakshi,

My dearest daughter, as you graduate from Grade XII, our hearts are filled with pride and gratitude. It feels like just yesterday we held your tiny hands, and today you stand tall, ready to step into the world with confidence and grace. Your hard work, resilience and kindness inspire us every day. As you begin this beautiful new journey, may you dream big, stay true to yourself and never forget how deeply you are loved.

We are endlessly proud of you.

Kamakshi singh

Mansi Thakur

My dear daughter, watching you grow into the strong, kind, and determined young woman you are today fills my heart with pride. Through challenges and victories, you have shown courage, compassion, and resilience. Never stop believing in yourself or dreaming big. As you move forward, trust your instincts, think with clarity, and do not believe others blindly. Remember my love and blessings are always with you. Keep smiling, stay grounded, and continue to shine brightly. I am endlessly proud of you, today and always.

Dear Aditi,
We are incredibly proud of the young woman you are becoming. Your quiet strength, sincere effort, and willingness to learn have shaped you beautifully over these years. Watching you grow with confidence and kindness has been a joy for us. As you step into a new chapter, stay true to yourself, trust your abilities, and keep moving forward with courage. Remember, our love and support will always be with you.

With all our love,
Maa & Papa

Aditi Mehrotra

Aditi Dagar

Dear Aditi,

Watching you grow into a confident, kind, and strong young woman has been our greatest joy. Your courage, values, and bright smile make us proud every day. As you step into the next chapter of life, always believe in yourself the way we believe in you. Keep dreaming big and shining bright. We will always be your biggest supporters.

Love you forever.

Anvee

22/10/2008 became the most special day for our family when a very lively, talkative, excited, caring, sincere, and beautiful angel named Anvee was born into our family.
Among her three brothers, she is our beloved princess who completes the joy, celebrations, and warmth of our home and family. She is the only child in our family who lovingly keeps in touch with everyone from her uncles to every family member even from the hostel during a short calling period. Our dear Lado is our pride, our peace, our joy, and truly a blessing from God. Watching her grow from being in our arms to becoming a teenager is like a dream coming true

May Shri Radharani and Pyare Bankey Bihari Ji always shower their choicest blessings upon her.

Zoya Shah

My Dearest Daughter,
As you pass your twelfth class, my heart is filled with pride beyond words. This milestone is not just about exams or marks—it is about your hard work, patience, late nights, and the quiet strength you showed even when things felt difficult. I have watched you grow into a thoughtful, determined, and courageous young person. You faced pressure, expectations, and doubts, yet you kept moving forward. That itself is a victory. Remember: results may measure performance, but they can never measure your worth. This is not the end of your journey—it is the beginning of a beautiful new chapter. Life will offer you many paths. Walk them with confidence, kindness, and honesty. Believe in yourself the way I believe in you. Even if you stumble, know that learning and rising again is part of success.
No matter where life takes you, always remember that you are capable, you are strong and you are deeply loved.
I am proud of you today, tomorrow, and always will be. Keep dreaming, keep working, and never stop being the wonderful person you are.

With all my love and blessings,
Mom and Dad

Mudita Bhandari

Parents and children share a bond of love, care, and affection, making it a picture of a Happy family. Mudita completes this picture and makes it perfect with all her graceful presence and radiance. As parents, we have been witnessing her growth from an infant to a child, and then to a teenager, through her playful activities, childhood tantrums, fights, tears, and all smiles. All these memories are still fresh in our minds, and they bring solace to our hearts. The way we have dreamed of her growth and grooming is fulfilled, and she has really grown up and bloomed into a young, confident soul. All thanks to the institution, its dedicated teachers and team members, for providing her with a safe haven in the company of safe hands. Now she is about to step into a new world full of dreams, adventures, and, of course, self-discipline.
With Almighty's blessings, Vantage Hall's training and mentorship, and in our guardianship, we wish her the very best in her life, career, and future.

Vaanika Arora

My daughter Vaanika is the most precious blessing of my life. She is innocent, pure-hearted, social, and a very wise girl.
She is ambitious and always optimistic about her dreams. She understands me even before I share my problems and connects with me more deeply than anyone else. Her absence feels like food without salt. She is my sweetheart, my strength, and my life. I wish her all the best for her life ahead.

I am always with you, Vaanika.

You gave us the joy and thrilling excitement of becoming parents for the first time. We watched our mischievous little girl grow into an incredible, strong young lady. Sending you to boarding brought tears, yet your courage and achievements filled our hearts with pride. As you step into a new world, remember distance can never weaken our love.
With a good heart, shine bright, the future is yours, full of light.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Leesha Goel

Darling Anya,
We're so proud to see the amazing and wonderful person you have grown up to be during your time at Vantage Hall. The school has brought out the strength, courage, confidence and resilience we always knew you had in you. The leadership qualities you have developed there will help you to achieve all your future goals. May you always choose to do what is right even if it means going against the tide. Good Luck!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Anya Sehgal

Our dearest daughter, watching you grow into the confident, kind and strong young woman you are today fills our hearts with pride. From your first step to this remarkable milestone, you have amazed at every stage. Your courage, determination and beautiful spirit make us so proud to call you our daughter. As you step into a new chapter of life, always believe in yourself and your dreams. We will be always on your side no matter where life takes you, our blessing and love is always with you. We love you endlessly.

Love,
Mom & Dad.

Apprilla Kabak

Dearest Riya,
You have always been our pride and priority. Your confidence, jolliness, creativity, and love for participation make you shine. Vantage Hall gave you wings; your success rises from Rishi sir's vision, dedicated teachers, caring staff, masti-vali friendships, and a hostel that became home. Winning first prize in photography filled us with joy and pride. Being away was hard at first, but every Sunday hearing you confirms choosing Vantage School was absolutely right. These memories will guide your dreams forever.
Love,
Mom & Dad

Riya Gharge

Aayat Kawosa

Aayat
My dearest daughter,

As you begin your 12th class exams, I want you to know how incredibly proud I am of you. After losing your mother, you showed remarkable strength, focus, and courage. You turned pain into determination and never gave up. She would be so proud of the young woman you've become. Trust yourself and stay confident. These exams don't define you — your character does. No matter what, you are already my greatest achievement and pride.

I love you always.

Shree Agrawal

Dear Shree,

As you complete this golden chapter at Vantage Hall, a world of dreams awaits you. We are so proud to be your parents. Always stay connected to your roots while having the courage to reach for the stars. May the memories and friendships you've made here stay with you forever. Continue spreading joy with your beautiful smile and simplicity. Wishing you a future as bright as you are.

Keep shining, beta!

Niyati Gupta

Dear Niyati,
These years have shaped you into a thoughtful, resilient, and bright girl full of promise. We are so proud of your achievements and even prouder of the values you carry in your heart. As you step into the future, face every challenge with confidence and kindness. Dream boldly, trust yourself, and always know that our love and support are with you.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Avani Singh

Watching you achieve this fills our hearts with pride. Your dedication, resilience, and quiet strength brought you here, and you earned every bit of this success and your belief in yourself. We are incredibly proud of the person you are becoming and excited for all the doors this will open for you.

Love,
Mom & Dad.

Vaishnavi

My dear Vaishu,

Walk in your exams, stay cool with full confidence, give up your best and rest to life, Your exams only test your knowledge not your worth. No matter what the result is, I always have faith in you and you mean the world to me and I am always proud to be your father.

Love you

Mokshda

My precious Mokshda,
From the little girl who held our hands to the young woman who now stands strong on her own, you have filled our lives with pride and love. Your quiet strength, discipline, and courage inspire us every day. No matter where life leads you, remember that you are capable of great things and never alone. Keep believing in yourself and chasing your dreams with the same passion. We love you beyond words.

Always,
Mom & Dad

Tanishka

Dear Tanishka,
You have always been God's precious gift in our lives. Your school years passed so quickly. When you left for Vantage Hall, I missed the simple moment of you stepping off the bus and saying, "Mumma, main aa gayi."
As your Class 12th farewell marks a new journey, we hope these years have given you memories and values for life. Seeing you as a mature person fills us with pride.
Always remember your father's guidance:
"Sabse badhkar ek achha insaan banna."
Remember, your family is always with you.
May God bless you.
Lots of love, Tanishka beta!!
Yours
Mumma and Papa.

Tsering

Tsering Chosdon is one of the greatest blessings in our family. As parents, we are extremely proud of her. Her dedication towards her family and care for others is truly admirable. We thank God for blessing us with such a precious daughter.
Chosdon carries a positive outlook towards everyone, and we are confident that in the near future she will serve Ladakh and our nation with dedication and integrity. We wish her great success in all her endeavours.
Lastly, we extend our heartfelt gratitude to Vantage Hall Girls' Residential School, Dehradun, for providing quality education and constant support to students at every level.

Tejaswini

My Dear Daughter,
Watching you grow into the thoughtful, kind, and resilient young woman you are today fills our hearts with immense pride. Your journey has not always been easy, but your sensitivity is your strength, it reflects your deep compassion, honesty, and courage. Every challenge you faced helped shape your character and wisdom. Always believe in yourself, stay true to your values, and never hesitate to dream big. We are always beside you, cheering you on with endless love and faith.

With all our love,
Mom & Dad

Sarishti

Dear Nonu,
Time changes everything and it brings all things to pass. In early childhood you always become sick whenever one of us has to go out of station for some urgent work. These years of boarding school have made you stronger, disciplined and more confident. On the way to VHGRS; 1st time; your fear was very clear. Yours question during our journey "मम्मी पापा आप मुझे कहाँ छोड़ने जा रहे हैं? worried us a lot at that time as well as later on. Living away from home is not easy but you handle everything with courage. We are proud of your hardwork, confidence and ability to adjust. Thanks Vantagehall for nurturing you like this with drastic changes in behavior, adorable personality & confidence. Remember how for you go, our love & support are always with you. We wish you happiness, success and a bright future.

With lot of love
Papa and mamma.

Anushka

Our daughter Anushka Rastogi is very kind-hearted, responsible, and truly caring. From Class 1, she stayed in a hostel because there was no good education source here. It was not an easy step for us as parents, and not easy for her either. But she handled everything with maturity, taking care of her studies, discipline, and every responsibility. She completed her journey from Class 1 to Class 12 with strength and dedication. We are very proud that she is our daughter. May she always stay successful in the future; our blessings and trust are always with her.

Love Mom & Dad

Anwesha

To my beautiful Daughter,

Always know that you are loved more than you can ever imagine. No matter what ups and downs the winding journey of life takes you on, I will be there loving and supporting you unconditionally. Be brave, be strong and always believe in your amazing self. You will always be my baby girl.

Love,
Daddy

Nandini

My dearest Nandani,
Having you as our daughter has been life's greatest gift. You brought light into our world from the very first moment, and through your eyes, we've experienced the wonder of childhood all over again seeing the world fresh and beautiful through your laughter and curiosity.
Every small victory, every milestone you've reached, they're not just memories to us, they're treasures we carry in our hearts. The pride we feel watching you grow has been beyond words.
As you stand at this beautiful threshold, completing your school years and stepping toward new horizons, our hearts are full of hope and prayers for you. May you walk through life with confidence and compassion, may you find joy in your journey, and may you always remember how deeply you are loved.

We believe in the person you're becoming strong, kind, and ready to make your mark on this world.
With all our love and blessings.

Anant

Dear Anant,
As you stand at the threshold of a new chapter, closing one of the most significant chapters of your life – high school – I can't help but look back at the journey we've shared. I remember the nights I tucked you in, the countless hours we spent talking about your dreams, and the laughter we shared over silly things.
Through it all, you've grown into a remarkable young woman – resilient, kind, and fiercely determined. I'm beyond proud of the person you're becoming. Your strength inspires me every day, and I'm so grateful to be your mom.
As you step into the world beyond Vantage Hall, remember that you are loved, not just for who you've been, but for who you are and who you're meant to be. You are capable of achieving greatness, and I have no doubt you'll make your mark.
Chase your passions, stand up for what matters, and never lose that spark that makes you, you. I will be here, cheering you on every step of the way.
I love you more than words can say.
With all my heart,
Mom

Aradhya

Dear Tutu,

I still remember how homesick you were when you first left home, and honestly, in some ways you're still my little baby. But you survived five whole years of boarding life, and that makes me so, so proud of you. I could have never imagined that my small, homesick child would grow up to become a national shooter. Watching you grow into such a strong and independent person fills my heart every day.

I love you so much, always.

Prachi

Dear Aradhya,
Watching you grow up has been the biggest blessing of my life. I was able to relive the beautiful moments of my childhood, but this time it was more special because of you.
I wish you the best of life. Remember, live your life the way you want and make sure not to let anyone control your life. I hope you achieve all your dreams. Remember, I'm always there by your side.

Love you. God bless you.

GRADUATION CEREMONY
CLASS OF 2026

To our Dear Seniors,

The final bell has rung and the stage is yours.
Before you put down this yearbook we would like to thank you for the memories, the leadership, and the standard you set for us every single day.

The pink halls here have fallen quieter without your presence, but we know wherever you go next is about to get a whole lot louder. You left this place better than you found it and it was a true privilege learning from your example. We've got it from here.
Wishing you all the success you so rightly deserve.

With love,
Grade 11
